OPPOSITION IS GROWING

Calgary Congregations Vote to Prohibit the Reno Fight
Pictures

NOW UP TO MR. MITCHELL

Order-in-Council May Be Passed Barring Pictures From Alberta

(Special to The Capital.)
Calgary, July 11.—In the first half of the night, protests were registered by the congregations against the showing of Johnson-Jeffries fight pictures here and these will be forwarded to Mayor Jamison. The latter is opposed to exhibition of pictures, but legal men say he has no power to stop the exhibitions; that the power rests with the Legislature and that there is now no legislation dealing with the subject.

One Man in Favor
At the Central Methodist Church, Rev. Kirby, pastor, asked for a show of hands for and against the pictures and one man had the courage of his convictions and hoisted his hand as favoring the showing of pictures. He was praised for his pluck, but many other men in the congregation kept their hands down altogether and were wounded for sitting on the fence.

The Nelson-Wolgate pictures are being shown this week here and an effort will be made to prohibit them.

May Prohibit Them
It is quite likely that within the next day or two Attorney General Mitchell will announce that an order-in-council has been passed prohibiting the exhibition of the fight pictures in Alberta. When interviewed this morning in regard to the matter, Mr. Mitchell stated that no action had been taken yet, but it is understood that owing to the apparent widespread feeling against the pictures, Mr. Mitchell is in favor of prohibiting them.

Barred From Philippines Manila, July 11.—In the face of the fact that they might have upon the Filipinos, the municipal board of Manila has resolved to prohibit the exhibition of the Johnson-Jeffries fight
pictures.

TO TOUR EMPIRE
London, July 11.—King George and Queen Mary will make a tour of the Empire, according to a rumor heard here today.

MANITOBA CROPS
LOOKING BETTER

Cooler Weather and Showers During Last 48 Hours Make Great Change

Winnipeg, July 11.—Cooler weather and showers over the greater part of the province have characterized the past 48 hours with the result that a distinctly more optimistic tone is prevalent regarding the spring wheat prospects in Manitoba.

"The wonderful recuperative properties of the Red River are well known," said a representative of a leading elevator today. "And provided the conditions continue as at present, the next week or two will see a remarkable recovery. Of course the drought and burning heat earlier accomplished its work in some districts where the land is light and the showers have been few. No doubt considerable areas of spring wheat are or will be plowed under. But the much heavier land, which is the backbone of Manitoba wheat production, is well capable of supporting another drought and of returning in the end a fair average yield. It depends entirely on the weather conditions of the balance of July.

"People who are now talking of a very considerable loss in Manitoba wheat are being misled. It is not yet a big surprise if we have right weather conditions with steady and general rains."

This encouraging note finds expression further West and reports from the older settled districts of Saskatchewan in particular are encouraging.

NO SIGN OF ANY RISING OF THE SASKATCHEWAN

For the first time in years there has been no high water in the Saska-tchevan River. June, the month of swollen streams has come and gone and the customary flood from the mountains has not arrived. Trisvellers from the west say that this is the driest year that the country has seen for a long time. None of the rivers west have risen. Wolf Creek is normal, as also is the Mac-Leod River.

Last winter it was reported that the snowfall in the Rockies had been exceptionally heavy, consequently the saw mill owners made preparations for a big flood, strengthening the beams to hold the thousands of logs that come down from the lumber camps. This year the rivermen do not expect any flooding, and the last big drive of logs for Walter's Mill will soon leave the river. The camps, and once within the bounds, there is small probability of their being swept away by any high water.

KILLED BY FALL FROM HIS HORSE

Charles Mutard, Daysland Rancher, Fatally Injured in Accident

UNCONSCIOUS FOR 3 DAYS

Riderless Horse Raises Alarm—Body Found on Man's Own Land

Daysland, July 11.—Word has reached here of the death through accident of Charles Mutard, a rancher, living near Loveland.

On the morning of Friday, July 1st, the saddle horse of Charles H. Mutard, a rancher on the Battle river, near Loveland, arrived at the ranch-house without its master, thus indicating the probability of an accident having happened to its rider on the range.
Mrs. Mutard, being alone on the ranch, could not give immediate alarm.
She did so as quickly as possible, about the middle of the day, when a search was started by a few of the nearby neighbors. They being unsuccessful in finding the body of the horse, a general alarm was given by Messrs. Gibson, Thayer and Richter.
Late in the evening the picnic party of the Pioneer Association, holding their annual picnic, was notified, and a systematic search was instituted, beginning at daylight on the morning of Saturday, July 2.

At about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, James G. Munro discovered the body of Mr. Mutard, in his own pasture, lying in a level patch, about fifteen rods from the trail. Apparently the horse was extinct, but he was carried to the ranch-house on a cot and riders dispatched for Dr. Duggan, of Killam, and Dr. Lion, of Castor. The physicians arrived about nine o'clock
in the evening, the latter accompanied by Constable Knight, of Castor.

In the meantime, faint heart-beats were noticed in the apparently lifeless body, and after hours of hard work the physicians arrived about nine o'clock
in the evening, the latter accompanied
by Constable Knight, of Castor.

LIBERTY VITAL TO ORANGEMEN

Society Hears Annual Sermon at Westminster Church Last Night

PROGRAM FOR TOMORROW

Big List of Events for the "Glorious Twelfth" Is Arranged for

The annual anniversary service of the local Orange Association was held last evening, at Rev. C. A.
Myers, pastor, officiating. The edifice was crowded to capacity, and chairs had to be arranged at the back and in the aisles to accommodate the overflow. The Orangemen lined up at the lodgerooms at about a quarter to seven and marched to the church and on arrival there occupied the benches in the centre.

Rev. Mr. Myers preached from the text, John 8:36, 37: "If the Son shall make ye free, ye shall be free indeed." He opened his address with reference to the occasion, welcoming the Orangemen to the church. "This is the anniversary of the granting of the Great Charter of Liberties, an event of an historical event which means so much for the civilized race," said Mr.
Myers. "We are here to celebrate the anniversary of the great Orange Association. Mr. Myers went on to explain the reasons for the existence of such an organization.
They were bound by oath, he said,
to protect from persecution any Christian doctrine. "If he could choose one word which might explain the Orange Association, that word would essentially be 'Liberty.'"
"True liberty," was the basis of the discourse. Mr. Myers in an eloquent way traced the evolution of man from slavery and persecution to his present domination over exterior forces, showing how man had struggled against his own environment and even against his own brethren to attain freedom. Mr. Myers' idea was that even if man had the control of all the natural forces he might still be like Nero, bold and fettered.
Spiritual freedom, and freedom of the mind constituted true liberty.

Tomorrow, the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, the annual Orange celebration will be held in Edmonton. This celebration has always been attended with great success, and tomorrow if the weather is fine, a duplicate of past anniversaries is expected. The day's programme will consist of a procession, speeches, and sports. A public picnic at the Groat Estate has also been arranged.

The procession will start at eleven o'clock from the Mechanics' Hall, Third street, and will include besides the local Orangemen and the members of outside lodges, the Citizens' band and civic representatives.
Following is the route of the procession for the day's outing:
11 a.m.—Leave Mechanics' Hall, Third street, east on Athabasca to First, north to May street, east to Queens' avenue, north to Clara, east

OPENING UP THE TOFIELD MINES

Edmonton Firm to Commence Operations in the Near Future

Tofield, July 11.—Tofielders and others will be glad to hear that the companies who control the large coal deposits immediately south of the town are preparing to begin operations on an extensive scale. The Tofield Coal Co., Ltd., mines which were sold by Crafs and Lee to a Chicago syndicate, have reverted to their former owners, the vendors, and Crafs and Lee & Co. are preparing to open up the mines on an extensive scale. Recently a company of engineers went over the ground thoroughly, taking the levels and such other information as is necessary. It is understood that other capital has been enlisted and that operations will be begun in a few weeks.

Second Company Operating The Debel Coal Co., Ltd., which is the name of a newly incorporated company taking over the control of the large coal deposits on the section immediately south of town, has been formed of Edmonton, eastern and British capital, and has decided to begin operations right away upon their holdings. T. Henderson, C.E., who went over the ground some weeks ago very thoroughly, taking the levels of the deposits and clays, has gone in to the company and has been appointed managing director. Mr. Henderson has arrived at Tofield and will make his permanent residence here.

Machinery for handling the dirt has been ordered and will shortly arrive.
A siding will be built into the mines from the Tofield-Calgary branch which passes over a portion of by-coal company's property as it leaves the Tofield yards.
In conversation with the Capital this morning, Mayor Lee, who is connected with the firm, had nothing to say in regard to the above despatch.

CAUGHT PIRATES IN THE CELEBES

Uprising of Natives in Java Is Feared Greatly by the Dutch

Budget of News From the Orient
Brought by the Steamer Bellerophon

Victoria, July 11.—From Manila the steamer Bellerophon, arriving yesterday, brought news of the capture and wiping out of more pirates, who recently killed the Dutch traders and looted the trading town of Tofield, in the Sulu group of islands.

Singapore newspapers received by the Bellerophon state that a rising of natives is considered imminent in Java and steps are being taken by the Dutch to guard against this. Agitators have been working on the superstitions by persuading them that the coming of Halleys comet was a sign that they were to liberate themselves from Dutch rule and set up a kingdom of their own.

From Canton the steamer brought news of the loss of a hundred lives during the dragon festival there last month. As the winning dragon boat in the race was reaching the judges' barge, crowded with spectators, one of the boat's crew threw away a cigarette which fell in an open gun powder keg on the barge. The explosion wounded a number and resulted in a panic approximately one hundred being drowned.

DETERMINED TO DIE

Man Tied Suspenders Around His Throat

Strathmore, Ill., July 9.—News of a most determined case of suicide was brought into Strathmore by a messenger from one of the Jackson ditch construction companies, fourteen miles north of Strathmore. Yesterday morning a man named William Meyers was found lying dead in bed, having strangled himself by tying his suspender around his neck and pulling them tight.

WrestlingESKIMOS WALLOP THE NEW CHAMPIONS, TOOK LAST GAME OF SERIES BY 10 TO 6

Both Teams had on Their Slugging Costumes—Paddock Hit Ball Over Right Field Fence.

Diamond Park on Saturday eve made a swarms' day, like a letterbox street on a dry day. Mud, mud, everywhere. The players walked around with about $20 worth of high class Edmonton real estate sticking to their shirts and seemed to enjoy the mud pie party. The Eskimos took kindly to the heavy going and got under the wire first by 10 to 2.

It was a hitting carnival and both teams fattened up their batting averages considerably. Twenty hits were garnered off the quartette of pitchers engaged in the battle. Manning and Grady being badly punished.

Manning started out the game and the Eskimos fell on his offerings for six runs in the first. In the third the Huskies picked Grady's pocket of the combination and got to him with great thoroughness. Five runs were collected and then Dell succeeded to the slay's throne. He has found for one run and the innings closed with the score six all.

The Eskimos got going again in their half of the third and two runs caused Babe Clynes to take the whiff man's harden and he didn't do too badly at that. Two runs were secured in the fifth and the game was over.

Bill Carney Ejected

There were several amusing incidents. Bill Carney tried to get the new umpire's goat in the third by grounding from the bench. He continued after being ordered to stop and received a $5 fine for his pains. Bill then walked into the centre of the diamond to debate the question before the house and Ferguson ordered him from the grounds. Manager Bill seemed reluctant to leave his mound, so a husky policeman was called to the rescue, and succeeded in placing the anarchist on the outside looking in.

The double umpire system was worked on Saturday. Ferguson calling the balls and strikes while Longmeyer watched the bases. Both men did good work, Ferguson especially making a hit with the crowd when he refused to take any con talk from Carney. If the expense isn't too great, it would be a good idea for President Eckstrom to have two umpires for each game.

Del Paddock only made one hit, but it was as good as eight. In the third the heavy hitting shortstop came to the bat with one man on. He waited until one to his liking came along and then swung like a pilderiver. The pellet towards the scoreboard went over the fence and landed somewhere in the vicinity of Seventh street. It was a home run of the purest quality and also one of the longest hits ever made at Diamond Park.

The attendance on Saturday was 65,000 admissions, which made the average paid attendance for the home games since the season's opening, well over the 800 mark. This shows that the fans appreciate the efforts of the Edmonton baseball club to put a winning club in the city.

Story of the Game

Paddock bled to Brennan and Duggan singled to right. Clynes hit to Quigley, who started a neat double with Morse and Baxter retiring the side.

"They're Firing on Us."

Pitcher Manning, who twirled and won a game earlier in the week, was the pitcher that went too often to the well. The Eskimos liked his offerings and showed their gratitude in no uncertain tones. Mills opened up with a single and Baxter laid down a bunt. Manning was engulfed in the mud when he attempted to field the ball. Finally he did throw towards the bleachers and our runners were on second and third. Morse grounded out, pitcher to first. Lussi hit safely and Mills waded home. Quigley numbed out one and Baxter knocked the mud from his boots off on the plate. Brennan hit the ball on the solar plexus for two batters; Lussi scoring. It looked as if Quigley was caught between third and home on Stubb's shot to Kellakey, but Duggan very kindly dropped the ball. Cox hit to first. Brennan scoring on the out. Grady scored Stubb with a hit to right and was out stealing. Six runs.

Second Was Featureless

Smith and Kellakey out on grounds. Quigley dropped Flanagan's hit. Connors was quickly disposed of. Mills walked and took second on Baxter's sacrifice. Morse fanned, while Lussi was thrown out. Paddock to Kellakey.

Paddock's Mighty Wallop

The third was a continuation of the first, with the Huskies wielding the big stick. Standridge singled to centre and Manning was out. Quigley to Baxter. Then the fusillade began. Paddock made his home run, spoken of above and Duggan combined one to deep centre which Lussi got to after a long run but couldn't hit. Duggan singled in success. Duggan scoring. A triple by Kellakey sent in two more runners and Jack Grady was replaced by Slim Dell. Flanagan grounded to first but Connors' double sent Kellakey across the plate, with the sixth and tying run. Standridge, batting for the second time this innings, made his second hit, a slow twister down third base line. Manning out. Brennan to Baxter.

Quigley fanned and Brennan walked. Spenser hit safely and then Bill Carney, escorted by a Guy in blue, was escorted from our midst. There were no floral offerings. Chesty singled to centre, scoring Brennan and was forced at second by Dell's grounder to Paddock. Mills and Baxter walked, forcing Spenser across the plate. With the bases still full, Morse popped to Kellakey. Two runs.

Paddock sent out a slow twister to Brennan, Duggan hit to Quigley, Clynes singled to right, but Smith fanned. Kellakey drew a base on balls. With all corners occupied, Dell won a round of applause by whiffing Flanagan.

No Luck at All

Babe Clynes now pitching for Calgary, fanned in right and Flanagan in left. Lussi first up, walks, and takes second on Quigley's sacrifice. Brennan tears off a safety. Jack and Lussi attempt a double steal and the latter is caught cold. Brennan purloins third and Spenser scores. The base runners attempt to pull off something and the former is caught at the plate.

Connors out. Standridge makes his third hit of the day, a grounder over third sack. Manning hit to Brennan and a quick throw from Standridge at second. Manning strikes second, but Paddock drew a long fly to centre which Lussi clasped to his breast.

Twins for Ours

Chesty fell before Clynes' curves. Dell ploughed to a bender on the base and limped to first, but recovered fast enough to get second on a passed ball. Mills walks. Morse pulled off a safe hit which scored Dell. Mills and Baxter engineered a double steal and the former scored. Morse hit to Smith, who grabbed Morse at third by a piece of quick thinking. A wild pitch advanced Morse to second, but the side was retired on Lussi's line drive to Standridge. Two runs.

Game called on account of darkness, rain, and a few other things.

SACRIFICE HITS

Four out of six from Calgary is not doing too badly.

Grady gets credit for a w in on Saturday night, as the score was 6-5 in Edmonton's favor when he bled.

Peter Standridge wasn't feeling very well on Saturday night. He only got three hits out of three times at bat.

Babe Clynes is far from being the worst 1 pitcher ever seen here this season.

The ball that Paddock hit for a home run went right down to Harry Shaw's factory to collect the cigars. It was a mighty wallop.

Umpire Ferguson looks pretty good to us. Umpire Longmeyer officiates in Calgary today.

The Maroons are talking of signing up Bill Morrow of Brandon to manage the Winnipeg club in 1911. They might do a whole lot worse.

Morse Baxter had a perfect batting average. He made two hits out of twice at bat. On the other occasions he walked. Watch his snook in Division No. 2 of the schedule.

Stub Spencer was in a big mud hole behind the plate and was almost lost to view. Every ball that Dell pitched drove Stub deeper into the rich Alberta soil.

It didn't take four policemen on Saturday to escort Bill from the grounds. One was ample.

For the edification of the lady fans who were kept away by the threatening rain we will state that Mr. William Carney was a neat going-away costume of blue. A brown sweater gave the creation a touch of color.

Chesty Cox recovered his batting optic, and delivered a hit when needed.

The ball looked like Jack Johnson's physog, when coming towards the batters. A white ball remained clean 35 seconds, Greenwich time.

Rain saved the visitors in the afternoon, but just held off long enough in the evening to finish the required 45 innings.

Morse Baxter was at bat 15 times in the past series with Calgary and made eight hits. "That gives him the marvelous average of .533 for the six games." He heads the Edmonton list, Mills being second with .444. Morse rather showed up the Calgary players who have been sticking the harpoon into him.

Our Strathcona correspondent reports that a baseball was found on White avenue today. Hully Gee! Can't that Paddock hit!

John Brennan is recovering his batting eye too fair. Twice up two hits and the same number of hits. One put out and four assists. A fine night's work, Jack.

Del Paddock was at bat 27 times in the 6 games and made 15 hits. His average for the series is .499 p.c.

Regino and Edmonton at 6:30 this evening. Dellar will probably be on the mound for the locals.

AVERAGES FOR
CALGARY GAMES

Baxter was the Leading Batter with .533—Mills a Good Second—Dellar the Pitching Star

The recent series between Edmonton and Calgary is marked by the fact that the local team won four out of six games from the champions of Division No. 1.

In the six games played the Eskimos outscored and out-fielded the Huskies but were beaten out in base hits.

The figures are:

	Runs	Hits	Errors
Edmonton	30	41	10
Calgary	26	30	13

Edmonton worked four pitchers in the six games. Dellar pitched and won twice, while Hickey won one and lost one. Dell lost one game and relieved Grady at a critical moment, the Eskimos finally winning out. Grady gets credit for the win.

Baxter is the leading batter with the marvellous figures of .533 while Mills ranked second, having .444 per cent. Jack Brennan is just outside of the charmed circle with .294.

One Want Ad.

Of Every Twenty is the Key to an Interesting Romance

The want ads. touch life so intimately—give reflection at such close range—that very often a few lines of classified advertising form the key to a real life romance as pathetic or as inspiring or as dull as can be "found in books."

Sometimes the want ad. is a link in the chain of the story—as a "real estate for sale" ad. often is. Another want ad.—perhaps offering something for sale which would indicate the dissolution of a home—may be the key to a pathetic story more interesting, if it could be told, than any fiction. Some other "for sale" ad. may suggest a drop phase of life as appealing as the adventures of Mr. Pickwick.

To those who have insight, who "know" human affairs in this city in this year of grace, 1930, the want ads. are the BEST reading matter. And, often, a want ad. reader who starts in to find romance clues is surprised to find clues to everything—profit-making things, for instance.

HAVE A COAL MINE AT PENITENTIARY

Warden McCaulay Thinks They'll Find Enough Fuel to Last 25 Years

Besides the various other trades which are taught to the convicts at the Alberta penitentiary there is one which is somewhat a novelty and that is coal mining. It has been known for some time that coal existed in the neighborhood of the penitentiary, but it was not until this winter that Warden McCaulay conceived a notion that a shaft could be sunk and the mine worked by convicts, thus supplying the penitentiary with a sufficient amount of coal for local purposes.

Accordingly a drift, or shaft was started in the river bank just behind the prison and a tramway built from the penitentiary yard to the scene of operations. The convicts have been working at the shaft since last winter with energy and perseverance, and last week they were rewarded when what is likely a coal bed received the first rays of light. A few scattered lumps of coal were brought to the surface and then it was seen that only a pillar of coal had been discovered, but that was sufficient to create optimism and it is believed that the coal bed is a little farther on. It is expected that the bed will be reached by next week.

Warden McCaulay in conversation with a Capital reporter expressed his delight at the evidence of success and is extremely optimistic. He stated that only four convicts were at work at present on the shaft as accommodating was somewhat small. One of these convicts he said had been a miner prior to his conviction and was directing operations. As the shaft is outside the penitentiary walls the men have to be closely guarded. He stated however, that when the new penitentiary wall is completed the mine will be within the grounds which will make the work easier.

"There is sufficient coal in the vicinity of the penitentiary to last us for 25 years," declared the warden. "And then only the top layer will be exhausted. I expect to find another layer underneath even richer than the first and it is possible that there are other beds also."

TWELVE YEARS' CRUELTY

Case Now Being Aired in the Divorce Courts Over in England

London, July 8.—Twelve years ago Capt. Theodore Edward Naish of the Royal Engineers married Grace Swan, daughter of the vicar of Calthorpe, near Rugby, England. Divorce proceedings instituted by the wife are now being heard, and the evidence tells of a most remarkable matrimonial experience.

Soon after the marriage Captain Naish began to treat his wife in a most peculiar manner. Although he did not ill-treat her at that time, he told her he considered that a husband had a right to strike his wife and that a wife should be a servant to her husband.

He appears to have carried out his notion for he made his wife clean his sword and helmet. He would not allow her to read ordinary books, but insisted on her reading works about Indian philosophy and Buddhism.

MOST UNKINDEST CUT.

He even refused to allow her to have afternoon teas, and about four months after the marriage he commenced to abuse her. Mrs. Naish returned to her parents who effected a temporary reconciliation, but after living a little while again with her husband, her nervous system broke down and the doctor ordered her to return to her parents. After a few lectures from the captain's reverend father-in-law, the couple again took up housekeeping.

In 1900 Captain and Mrs. Naish went to Halifax, Nova Scotia, where the husband held an appointment. While Mrs. Naish was ill, her husband gave her tasks to perform, and used to produce heavy books for her to learn and discuss.

Once he wished her to visit a timber yard a mile away, and as she could not walk, she was taken in a cart. When the child was christened, he refused to allow her to have a cab.

Mrs. Naish returned to England and her father wrote to her husband,

CAPTAIN WAS A CRAFTY.

"I think I ought to mention I am very much surprised to learn that my daughter had to do the work of a menial, and clean your uniform and appointments—a duty you should give to your man servant."

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Barnard, counsel for Mrs. Naish, "Captain Naish had no man servant. He made his wife do this work and drew the allowance for a servant."

In a few months Mrs. Naish rejoined her husband in Halifax, where his ill-treatment of her soon recommenced.

JEALOUS AND BRUTAL.

On one occasion, when they were on an excursion with the officers of his regiment her husband struck her, knocking her down. The only reason for this she could think of was that he was jealous.

From that time Captain Naish frequently struck his wife, and used abominable language towards her. Consequently she consulted her lawyer in 1902 and came back to England.

Once more she returned to Canada but her husband's bad conduct continued there, and while they were at Bermuda, in 1903 and 1904.

TOLD SIR PERCY LAKE.

During this period her husband threw a penknife at her, cutting her face, threw a glass of water and a cup of coffee over her, knocked her down, tried to strangle her, and beat her with a clothes brush. He gave her black eyes, and she complained to General Sir Percy Lake.

In Ireland, Captain Naish's treatment of his wife caused such a scandal that he had to leave the corps. Later, in South Africa, he was so cruel that she had to call in the army doctor. General Brooke ordered Captain Naish to be court-martialed, but the husband got around his wife and she begged him off. Then a deed of separation was drawn up, at Mrs. Naish was coaxed and bullied into having it cancelled. At the opening of the trial, Mrs. Naish, a very pretty woman, was almost too overcome to testify.

LADY TELLS HER STORY.

"My husband set me tasks about abstruse questions," she said, "and compelled me to read Persian, Indian and other Oriental books. At months he would have all the essence and some of the solids, while I had only some of the solids, in which there was no nourishment.

"He told me I was to be his servant, and that it was my privilege to work abjectly in every way for him. He also said a wife had no social status at all—it was a Mahometan theory.

NAISH WAS A PAGAN.

"He stated that he was my god, and that it did not matter if I did not pray to God—so long as I was obedient to him it was the same thing. When there was luggage I always had to carry my share, my husband's idea in that we should 'vor shoulder to shoulder.'

"When we reached Canada he left me alone and penniless for twelve hours in a strange city. He had one of his moods on.

"At times we cycled as much as 3 miles a day over sand and rocks. If he was in one of his moods I had to ride for my life to catch him. "I would have done anything for him," she added. "If only he had given me a little touch of affection."

This is the season of the year for thin clothes. You'll find them at Kelly & Moore's.

DEADLOCK MAY END IN STRIKE

G. T. P. Trainmen Refuse to Accept Suggestions of President Hays

WILL TAKE VOTE OF MEN

Over Five Thousand Men Will Be Affected if Strike Results

Montreal, July 10.—An uncompromising stand has been taken by the general committee of Railway Trainmen and Conductors against every proposition made by President Hays of the Grand Trunk and what practically amounts to a strike vote will be taken by the 4,300 men of the Grand Trunk system during the coming week.

On Saturday the 42 representatives of the Grand Trunk men who have been here for a long time past awaiting the outcome of their demands, left for their homes, embracing every city between Chicago, Montreal and Portland. They carried with them a seat question to present to the men for a vote.

The question really puts it up to the men whether they will accept President Hays' counter proposition or back up the general committee to the extent of a strike order to secure their full original demands. It is stated by Vice-President Murdoch of the Trainmen that this proceedings is really a formalism in accordance with the conservative methods of the Trainmen's Union.

A new position was created by the Grand Trunk accepting the majority for Mr. Hays and the general committee considered that before going any further in the matter it would be the part of wisdom to consult the members. Although this is done the members of the general committee stated that they had not the slightest doubt as to the answer and that the Grand Trunk men would stand solid for their demand for the full standard wage of the territory east of Chicago.

In addition to this the committee refused the suggestion of Mr. Hays that the matter be referred to an arbitration of experts, arguing that the matter has been already thoroughly arbitrated and such further proceedings would be a waste of time. Another new aspect to the position was the addition of the Central Vermont to the dispute as an appendage of the Grand Trunk and a strike of the proposition will also be taken this week from 350 employees of that line when it is expected that they will fall in line with the other Grand Trunk men.

The death occurred yesterday, at her residence, 351 Kennedy street, of Mrs. D. Senden. Funeral tomorrow at 3 o'clock to the Edmonton Cemetery.

This morning the appeals on municipal assessment in Strathcona were heard before Judge Taylor in the council chamber. Lot 46 on Whyte avenue, owned by Henry Sheldon was reduced from $1750 to $1500, while the land belonging to Edmonton and Strathcona Land Syndicate was reduced from $250 per acre to $150.

Preparations are being made by the Strathcona Orangerie to join in the celebrations tomorrow which are to be held on the Great Estate. In connection with the celebration the C. P. R. will run a special train from Red Deer.

TOO MUCH ACTION, TOO LITTLE REST

Rev. Dr. Fraser Urges More Meditation as Source of Practical Service

The special preacher at the Robertson Church yesterday morning was the Rev. Dr. Fraser, who is a professor on the staff of the Montreal Presbyterian College, and is well known in Presbyterian circles as an eloquent preacher.

Dr. Fraser's text was taken from St. Mark's 3:1-5. "Jesus said unto them, come ye yourselves apart into a desert place and rest a while" and from this he preached an eloquent sermon, urging quiet and meditation as a source of inspiration for active service, saying that much may be learnt by the modern church from the medieval saints.

"Some people," said the preacher, "are ashamed to take a holiday. Jesus recognized that work should alternate with rest, activity with receptivity. He recognized that solitude was necessary to repair the waste of activity, that rest, meditation and prayer was necessary to enrich the life of active service."

"This is a preposterously busy age, and we need more than anything to learn the necessity of silence."

"The chief saint is he who combines the life of meditation with that of action. The saints of medieval times, however, was one who lived almost entirely the life of meditation, and the merely meditative life is apt to fail to grasp the actual needs of the present, and so lose its capacity for real service."

"Are we moderns not in danger of going to the opposite extreme? We are rightly impatient of any profession which does not manifest itself in deeds, and we are surely right in the recognition of the truth that deeds must be translated into life. So the function of the church in modern times must be to offer the opportunity to rest awhile, to send the multitudes apart and go into a desert place to draw men into silence and solitude. If she fails here it seems her failure must be final."

LAURIER SPEAKS IN FT. WILLIAM

William at night. He said there would be no election until the government arrived at the time fixed by the constitution. The object of his visit was to become better acquainted with this new and rapidly progressive western country.

"We want to see," he said, "with our own eyes the new communities, cities, towns and villages which are springing up in every direction almost by magic. It is to extend a hand of welcome to those new fellow citizens who come to us from various parts of the world to make their country our country. It is to ascertain the wants and requirements of these new communities."

He prophesied that the wheat of the West within a few years would reach a billion bushels. At the conclusion of a stirring address Premier Laurier said a remarkable tribute to the late King.

"The King of England will be the King of Canada's Navy," he said. "The Canadian Parliament is a parliament of the King of England. We lost, a few months ago, our late King, who was one of the best and wisest sovereigns that was ever on the throne of England or any nation. He has gone to his Father's with the proud title of Edward the Peace-maker. I can speak with some knowledge and some authority when I say the King today is a worthy son of his sire. I believe that like his father he will be able to say at the end of his term 'I have striven to do my duty.' My last words are that in this age and in this Canada of ours we say as in the days of old 'The King is dead: Long Live the King.'"
